

Surfing

The surf in Sri Lanka is there on the whole south coast. there are heaps of places that pick up the swell and provide up to 3ft of good quality waves, if you want the good stuff youll have to go in season Jan/Feb. Sri Lanka is average in all departments, the surf the people the vibe everything. Some days are good in the water but if everyone who goes there honestly it is crowded. The local surfers are pretty good and are getting more and more aggro towards foreigners each season.
